

Email received July 2014.

“In May 2013 an operator received a splash of 50% Sodium Hydroxide to the side of his face from a flexible filling hose. Having Diphoterine at the filling location he was quickly treated with the spray and did not suffer any major effects. Following a precautionary visit to the company doctor he was deemed fit to return to work immediately. Micro-Bio considers Diphoterine to be an excellent solution for the treatment of chemicals on the skin/eyes and has recommended its use to our many customers.”

Denis O' Brien.

Technical Director.

Micro-Bio (Ireland) Ltd.